ABOUT ISI

ISI was founded by Professor P. C. Mahalanobis in Kolkata in 1931. The institute gained the status of an Institution of National Importance by an act of the Indian Parliament in 1959. The North-East centre of the Institute at Tezpur, inaugurated in 2011, is the fourth centre of ISI, joining the existing centres at Delhi, Bangalore, and Chennai. The major objectives of ISI are i) to promote the study and dissemination of knowledge of Statistics, to develop statistical theory and methods, and their use in research and practical applications generally, with special reference to problems of planning of national development and social welfare, ii) to undertake research in various fields of natural and social sciences, with a view to the mutual development of Statistics and these sciences.
